

COURSE OPTIONS

For students majoring in International Studies With an emphasis in South Asian Studies

Major Requirements

12 hours from Humanities and Language Areas:

Philosophy 2100:	Philosophy East and West
Philosophy 2410:	Philosophies of War and Peace
Philosophy 4600:	Political and Social Philosophy
Philosophy 4800:	Asian Philosophy
Philosophy 4810:	Philosophy of India
Religious Studies 1820:	Asian Humanities
Religious Studies 3200:	Hinduism
Religious Studies 3240:	Buddhism of South and Southeast Asia

12 hours from Social and Behavioral Sciences:

Peace Studies 1050:	Introduction to Peace Studies
Geography 2660:	Environmental Geography
Geography 2550:	Introduction to the Humanized Earth
Geography 2780:	World Political Geography: Patterns and Processes
History 3840:	Nonviolence in the Modern World
Political Science 4410:	Politics and War
Political Science 4400:	Theories of International Relations
Sociology 1120:	Population and Ecology
Sociology 4230:	Global Perspectives on Women and Development

12 hours; Focus Area – Including Capstone Experience:

Student determines focus area for the major in consultation with an advisor. Suggestions include additional courses in Philosophy, Political Science, Anthropology, Geography, Sociology Religious Studies, or History. (See courses listed above for suggestions of additional courses.)